at the convention of the Brotherhood of Locomotive Piremen, in this city, show that the order now numbers over 19,000 members and has $63,000 in its insurance fund. Its strength in resources are indicated by the fact that $630,000 was raised by general assessments to support the men engaged in the great atrike on the "O" road, from February, 1888, to January, 1889.

Among the important recommendations made by Orand Master Sargent at the present convention is one that the Brother-bond erect in some central city a building for the offices of the Urand Lodge, the structure to cost not less than $150,000.

The Grand Master also recommends efforts to sucure logislation in various States prohibiting the employment of Pinkertons, or other armed forces, in sime of strikes.
